Ordinance Requiring Permission to Use Explosives Will Be

Strictly Enforced by Police.

All day yesterday a long line of prospec tive celebrators filed past James Clark's desk in Mayor Wells's office and waited their turn for one of the permits granting them the privilege of discharging fireworks to-day. There were many grown men, as well as boys, in the line, who waited patiently for one of the slips of paper, which are signed both by Mayor Wells and his secretary, James G. McConkey, and bear the stamp of the city. If the 2,563 permits which Clerk Clark issued can be taken as a criterion, the Fourth will be gloriously celebrated in St. Louis. Aster the Mayor's office closed there were many who had failed to arrive in time to get a permit. None will be issued to-day.

One applicant for a permit yesterday was youngster about 8 years old, and when asked his name he said it was Tom, and nsisted that Tom was all there was to it. He said that he only had 10 cents' worthh f firecrackers and he wanted a permit so the cops wouldn't pinch him" when he "so the cops wouldn't pinch him" when he made so much noise.
Clark made out the permit to "Tom," much to his joy, and when a gentleman who was also waiting for a permit gave him a quarter for more firecrackers he went his way rejoicing.

In the proclamation which Mayor Wells issued on June 25 he gave his reasons for urging extra precaution in the use of all kinds of explosives, and quoted the law touching upon the discharge of fireworks, stating that the law would be strictly enforced.

The law, in substance, follows: "No per-The law, in substance, follows: "No person shall, in this city, discharge or set off any rockets or any other pyrotechnic exhibition or shoot any firecrackers or other kind of fireworks without the written consent of the Mayor.

The permits were the cause of crowding the Mayor's office yesterday, and the cause of many disappointments when several persons found that they had arrived after the office closed.

GENERAL CASSIUS M. CLAY RAVES LIKE A MANIAC.

Locks Himself in His Room and Defies Any One to Enter His House.

Lexington, Ky., July 3.—It is believed by friends of General Cassius M. Clay that he is to-night hopelessly insane in a room of his mansion. White Hall, in Madison Major R. S. Bullock, cashler of the Fayette National Bank of this city, and a lifelong friend of General Clay, received a message from the General's bodyguard, Joe Perkins, yesterday, saying that the old warrior had asked for a physician to old warrior had asked for a physician to be sent to his bedside. Major Bullock responded immediately, and within two hours he had Doctor W. O. Bullock of this city and Doctor Thomas S. Bullock of Louisville in the front yard of the General's residence, but that is as far as they ever got, as the General issued orders to his servant not to allow them to enter under any circumstances, and after two hours of pleading with the old lion of White Hall they returned to this city.

The servant, Perkins, tool the doctors that General Clay was scated on the bed with two revolvers by his side and a Winchester rifle in his hands, and would not let any one enter. He had Perkins telegraph as nephew. Green Clay Goodioe, of Washington City, to come to see him, but on his arrival hers the General refused to allow him to enter, and Mr. Goodioe returned to Worhington without seeing him.

According to reports from the servant he eats and sleeps well, but looks as savage as a beast out of the eyes, and calls constantly for his former child wife, Dora Clay Brock, whose last husband died last Sunday, and who has now promised the General to return to White Hall to make bur home. It is believed by many that her return will bring back the reason of General Clay, if she refuses to return to him, his relatives will forcibly take possession of him and send him to a sanitarium for treatment. be sent to his bedside. JOSEPH FINK APPOINTED SUPREME COURT MARSHAL.

Glasgow Man Selected to Succeed R. E. See-Green and Rader Reappointed.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Jefferson City, Mo., July 3.—Joseph Fink was appointed Marshal of the Supreme Court to-day to succeed R. E. See. The appointment came somewhat as a surprise as it was generally supposed See was secure in the position.

John Green was reappointed clerk, and Perry Rader reporter. Joseph Fink is a well-known Democrat of Glasgow, who has been prominent in poli-tics in his section of the State.

Mr. Fink was a candidate for the Demo-cratic nomination for Railway Commissioner at the last election, but falled to receive the place on the ticket. He is a married man, and will move with his family to Jefferson Cliy.

The Fink boom among the members of the Supreme bench was a quiet one, and was well under way before it was suspected that Mr. See would have opposition for the place. Mr. See made an efficient court off-cer.

ROOF GARDEN BAND CONCERT. Union Club Entertains Friends in

Unique Manner. Under tinted electric lights and Chinese lanterns, the members of the Union Club entertained their friends last night on the roof garden of the clubhouse at Lafayette and Jefferson avenues. In the center of the garden a fountain trickled, and on all sides Greek lights added to the effect.

A concert by a band, under the direction of William Well, supplied the principal music, while selections by a double quartet from the Appolo Club gave especial pleasure.

sic, while selections by a doubte sic, while selections of the garden and the entertainment of the guests were under the direction of the Entertainment Committee, composed of Joseph A. Buse, Joseph J. Samesreuther, Ernast A. Witter, Louis C. Hoithaus, Doctor J. W. Moore, John J. Schlange and Edgar A. Mueller.

The music programme was as follows: Overture, "Orpheus," Offenbach; song, "For All Eternity," Mascheroni; a novelette, "in a Cozy Corner," Bratton; "Scenes From the Sultan of Sulu," Wathal; concert waltz, "Espana," Waldtenfel; tone picture "Blending the Eluc and the Gray," Bendix: "Gems From the Prince of Pilsen," Luders; intermezzo, "Hiawatha," Moret; march, "Rex McDonald," Well; selection, "A Night in Granada," Kreutzer; excerpts from "The Chaperones," Whitmark; fantasie on "American Anthems," Herbert.
